

Welcome to module 8, “Corporate Volunteering”. In this module, you will learn how employers supported volunteering impacts the not-for-profit sector and communities at large.

Topics covered in this module will include the cross section of successes and challenges for not-for-profit organizations and companies who engage in employer supported volunteering.

This review of perspectives from charity, employee groups and the corporate sector, will reveal how thoughtful investment, planning, and consensus from both business and community is vital for beneficial execution.
