

Welcome to module 9, “Volunteering in Fundraising and Development”. In this module, you will learn the vital role played by volunteers in the areas of fundraising and development.

Topics stress the importance of relationship building, beyond financial, with major donors, who are essential to help amplify an organization’s message.

This discussion will reveal just how building a strong relationship with volunteers who like working with people, can in turn strengthen your organization’s fundraising team and overall mission.