About the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" Series

The "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series is a four-module series for graduate students and post-doctoral fellows exploring strategies to reflect on their teaching and develop their teaching dossier. The four 60-minute self-paced asynchronous modules are as follows:

- Module 1: Reflecting on Your Teaching Experience: An Introduction to Teaching Dossiers
- Module 2: Articulating Your Teaching Values and Practices: Developing Your Statement of Teaching Philosophy
- Module 3: Connecting Narratives and Evidence: Developing Components of Your Teaching Dossier
- Module 4: Looking Ahead: Telling New Stories About Our Teaching Experiences

This open-access resource under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-SA 4.0) License was co-developed by five institutional partners—Ryerson (X) University, University of Toronto, University of Waterloo, University of Windsor, and Western University—using HSP Studio offered through eCampusOntario. This project is made possible with funding by the Government of Ontario and through eCampusOntario's support of the Virtual Learning Strategy. Our Series Priorities

The "Developing Your Teaching Dossiers" series is designed and developed to welcome diverse users, perspectives, and experiences (work and lived experiences). In doing so, the series offers multiple ways for educators and learners to engage with the material through recognition of diverse pathways, various modes of content presentation, and multiple forms of reflection and expression.

Read more about how the series project team increased the accessibility and usability of this open educational resource.

Recognition of Diverse Pathways

- The series includes diverse users, perspectives, and experiences (work and lived experiences) through collaborations with members across five institutions.
- The series content is developed by graduate students and educational developers and reviewed by graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, educational developers, career educators, administrative staff, and faculty members.
- Samples and examples are collected from current graduate students (MAs and PhDs), recent graduates, and post-doctoral fellows from various disciplines, institutions, and communities.
- Bonus resources are provided to support further exploration and development.

Various Modes of Content Presentation

- Text content is presented via H5P interactive books and downloadable as recap documents in PDF and DOCX formats.
- Images are accompanied by alternative texts and described in the main text where appropriate.
- Videos are closed captioned and transcripts in PDF and DOCX formats are available for download.
- The series is accompanied by a glossary, in PDF and DOCX formats, that defines key terms and offers instructions for H5P features.

Multiple Forms of Reflection and Expression

- Users are invited to participate in reflections throughout the series in multiple formats.
- Users who prefer interacting within the H5P interface can type their reflections and notes, and export and save their text as a Word document through the H5P documentation tool.
- Users can also document their reflections and notes as a text document on their computer or as written texts on paper or in a notebook.
- Users are also prompted to engage with their reflection through audio recordings on their device (phone, computer, etc.) and conversations with colleagues, peers, friends, or family members.

"Developing Your Teaching Dossier" Series Content and Storage

Each module in the series is composed of five sections—a Getting Started (common element) section, three body sections, and a module summary (with a Certificate of Completion*). Each section is contained in the form of an H5P interactive book. H5P stands for HTML 5 Package and is an open-source authoring tool. The H5P interactive books are hosted on H5P Studio offered through eCampusOntario.

H5P interactive books can be embedded into each institution's learning management system (LMS) and customized through the H5P reuse function. Each H5P interactive book contains text content (including reference lists), hyperlinked resources, and embedded videos. All elements are included when embedding an H5P interactive book. If you discover broken links, refer to the table below for guidance.

H5P Interactive Book	All H5P interactive books are stored on the eCampusOntario H5P Studio website . Refer to Appendix A for the embed codes of each interactive book.
Text Content	Text content is included when embedding the H5P interactive books. Resources developed by the project team are hyperlinked within each interactive book. Note: Reference lists are not hyperlinked due to concerns about changing URLs. Exceptions are made for the three websites on the "Which land do you teach and learn on" page in the "Getting Started: Welcome to Teaching Dossier Training!" section.
Hyperlinked Resources	Hyperlinked resources in the H5P interactive books are developed by the project team and stored on an eCampusOntario Pressbooks account. The resources are included when embedding the H5P interactive books. In the rare instance when there is a broken link, refer to Appendix B for the URL of each resource.
Embedded Videos	All embedded videos in the H5P interactive books are developed by the project team and stored on the University of Toronto's Centre for Teaching Support & Innovation's YouTube account. The videos are included when embedding the H5P interactive books. In the rare instance when there is a broken video link, refer to Appendix C for the URL of each video.

Besides the H5P interactive book, the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series uses three other H5P content types—the accordion, documentation tool, and multiple choice. Download the Developing Your Teaching Dossier Series Glossary (PDF | DOCX) for an introduction to the interactive H5P tools used throughout the series. Further guidance is available via the H5P.org website.

*The Certificate of Completion is a self-serve fillable PDF with no tracking and reporting capabilities. Institutions may want to use their own system for managing training progress and completion. Refer to Appendix D for a sample customization demonstration on removing the self-serve Certificate of Completion from the modules.

Using the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" Series

The "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series can be adapted into your current and future graduate student and post-doctoral fellow professional development programming in several ways. There are three levels of customization.

Level 1 Module Combination	Use one or several modules and integrate them into your programming. Each module is composed of five H5P interactive books. Consult the Level 1 Module Combination table below for ideas about which modules to include in your programming.
Level 2 Section Grouping	Use sections of each module and combine them to form a different learning experience. Each section is an H5P interactive book. Refer to Appendix A for the module section titles and embed codes.
Level 3 Content Customization	Customize (add, change, remove) content within each interactive book using the H5P reuse function. Consult the " Customizing the Content " section for instructions and refer to Appendix D for a sample customization demonstration.

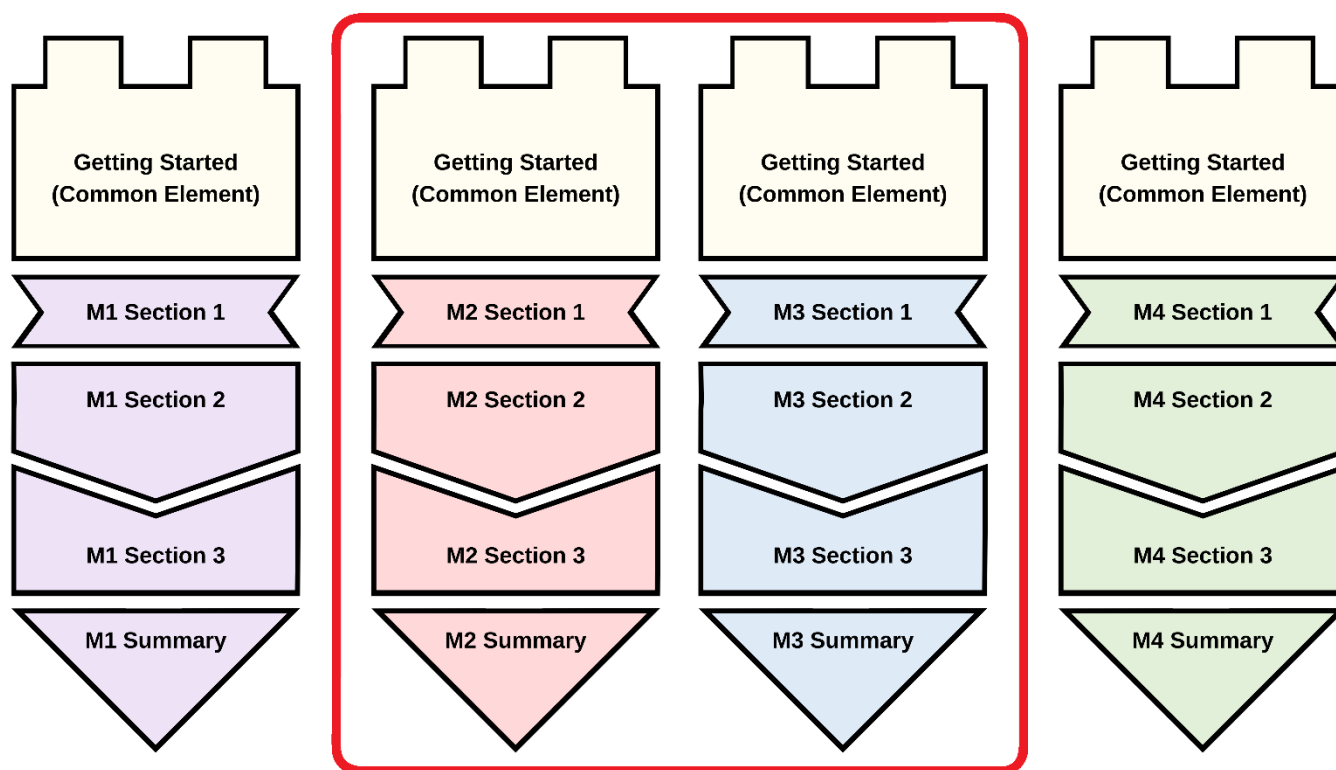

Tip: Don't know where to start? Visit our Getting Started: Welcome to Teaching Dossier Training! interactive book for a description of the four modules.

Level 1 Module Combination

Each of the four modules in the series can be integrated into your programming independently or in combination.

For example, in the diagram below, the institution has selected Modules 2 and 3 for their programming. The two modules were chosen because the users have prior knowledge and experience with teaching dossiers and wish to draft or update/revise their dossiers.

Consult the table on the following page for some module combination ideas that can be integrated into your programming and embedded into your LMS. Remember, every module can be customized to suit your needs!

Refer to the "Embedding the Series" section for LMS-specific embedding instructions. Connect with your institution's LMS support team for additional guidance.

Tip: If you can't decide, why not include all the modules in your programming!

Level 2 Section Grouping

Pick and choose sections and create a different learning experience. Keep in mind that sections are aligned within each module. New section groupings may disrupt the flow and content revisions may be needed to restore the alignment.

For example, in the diagram below, the institution has selected the following sections to create a "new" module.

- Getting Started (common element)
- Module 1 Section 1
- Module 2 Section 2
- Module 3 Section 2
- Module 4 Section 3
- Module 4 Summary

For this "new" module, the institution may need to expand the learning objectives presented in Module 1 Section 1 and the summary in Module 4 Summary. Further content clarification may help highlight the connections and flow between Module 1 Section 1, Module 2 Section 2, Module 3 Section 2, and Module 4 Section 3.

Consult the table on the following page for an overview of all the module section titles. Remember, every section can be customized to suit your needs!

Module 1: Reflecting on Your Teaching Experience: An Introduction to Teaching Dossiers	Module 2: Articulating Your Teaching Values and Practices: Developing Your Statement of Teaching Philosophy	Module 3: Connecting Narratives and Evidence: Developing Components of Your Teaching Dossier	Module 4: Looking Ahead: Telling New Stories About Our Teaching Experiences

Refer to the "Customizing the Content" section for step-by-step customization instructions through the H5P reuse function and proceed to the "Embedding the Series" section for LMS-specific embedding instructions. Connect with your institution's LMS support team for additional guidance.

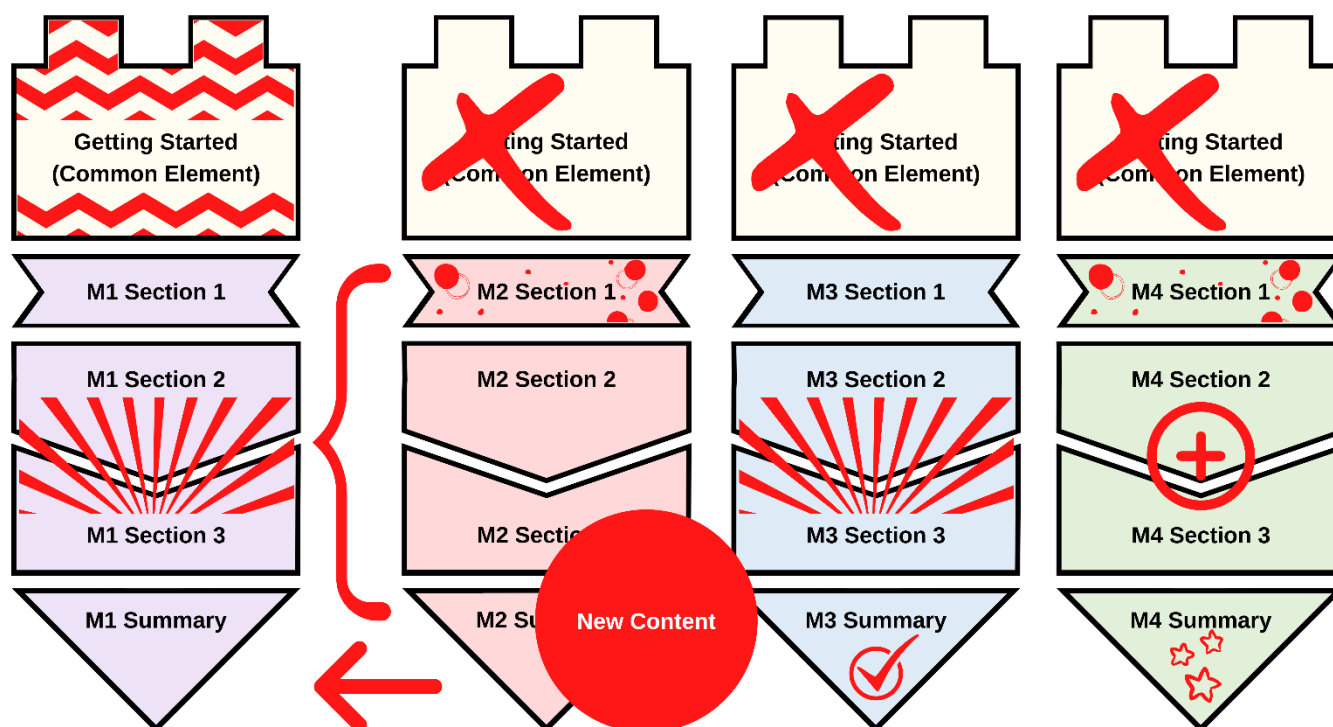

Level 3 Content Customization

Add, change, or remove the content in each page, section, and module using the H5P reuse function. This level of customization allows you to generate unique resources that support the changing needs of your diverse users.

For example, in the diagram below, the institution has decided to adapt the complete series with multiple customizations. The institution has customized the content in the Getting Started (common element) and removed the common element in subsequent modules because users will complete the entire series.

The institution shifted Module 2, with a customized Section 1, to the position of the first module. Users will complete Module 2 first, progress to a new content section developed by the institution, and proceed to Module 1, which features additional activities between Sections 2 and 3. Users then move on to Module 3, which also features additional activities between Sections 2 and 3 and ends with a knowledge check in the Summary section.

Finally, Module 4 begins with a customized Section 1, followed by a bonus programming between Sections 2 and 3. The series concludes with a modified Summary section that features an institution/programme-specific certificate.

Refer to the "Customizing the Content" section for step-by-step customization instructions through the H5P reuse function. Appendix D features a sample customization demonstration on removing the self-serve Certificate of Completion from the modules.

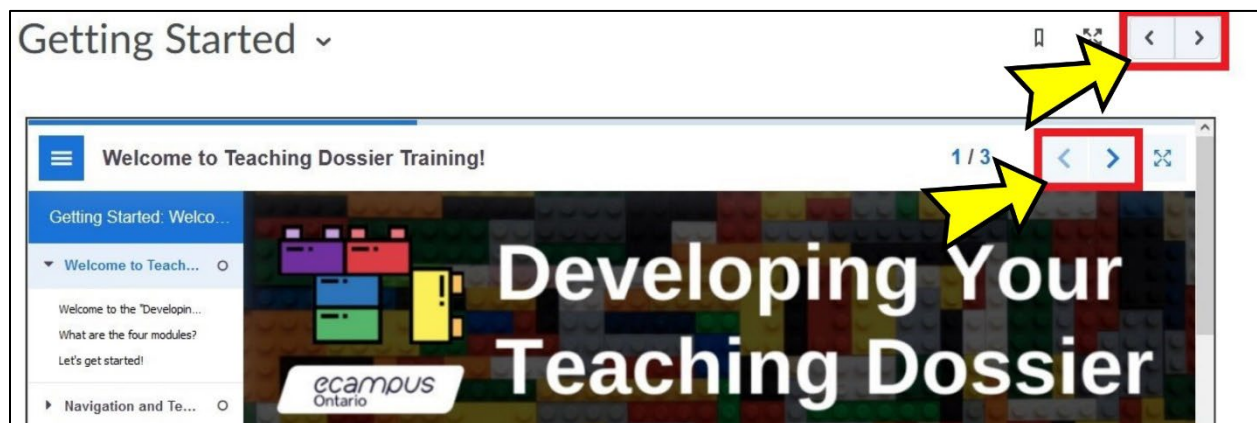

Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS

Tip 1 Add Navigation Instructions

There are many ways to display and navigate between pages within each H5P interactive book. The Getting Started section and the Series Glossary (PDF | DOCX) provide instructions on navigating the interactive book interface. Consider adding additional navigation instructions to help users differentiate between the LMS navigation buttons and the H5P interactive book navigation buttons.

For example, in the D2L Brightspace LMS interface, the LMS's navigation buttons are similar to the H5P interactive book's navigation buttons (both sets of buttons are highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below). The similarity in both sets of navigation buttons will confuse users. Provide additional instructions and clarifications for users to navigate from page to page and section to section.

In the Canvas LMS interface, the institution added instructions for users to click "Next" in the bottom-right to proceed to the next section of the module (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below). Provide clarification about how many pages users should have reviewed before proceeding to the next section.

Tip 2 Organize the Pages in Groups (Modules or Folders)

Consider organizing the various sections of the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series in groups or folders, depending on the capability of your LMS.

For example, each module section has been embedded on a Canvas page in the Canvas LMS. The Canvas LMS module function can organize the five pages into one module that sequentially guides users through the materials (screenshot below).

▼	Module 1: Reflecting on Your Teaching Experience: An Introduction to Teaching Dossiers	✓	+	⋮
⋮	Getting Started: Welcome to Teaching Dossier Training!	✓		⋮
⋮	Module 1 Section 1: What Is a Teaching Dossier?	✓		⋮
⋮	Module 1 Section 2: Characteristics and Components of a Teaching Dossier	✓		⋮
⋮	Module 1 Section 3: Five-Step Plan for Creating Your Teaching Dossier	✓		⋮
⋮	Module 1 Summary: Introduction to Teaching Dossiers	✓		⋮

Consult your LMS guide for guidance on organizing pages and materials to enhance the user experience.

Tip 3 Provide Framing or Prompts

Institutions can provide additional framing or prompt on each LMS page to help situate the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series within your programming.

Some framing or prompt ideas include:

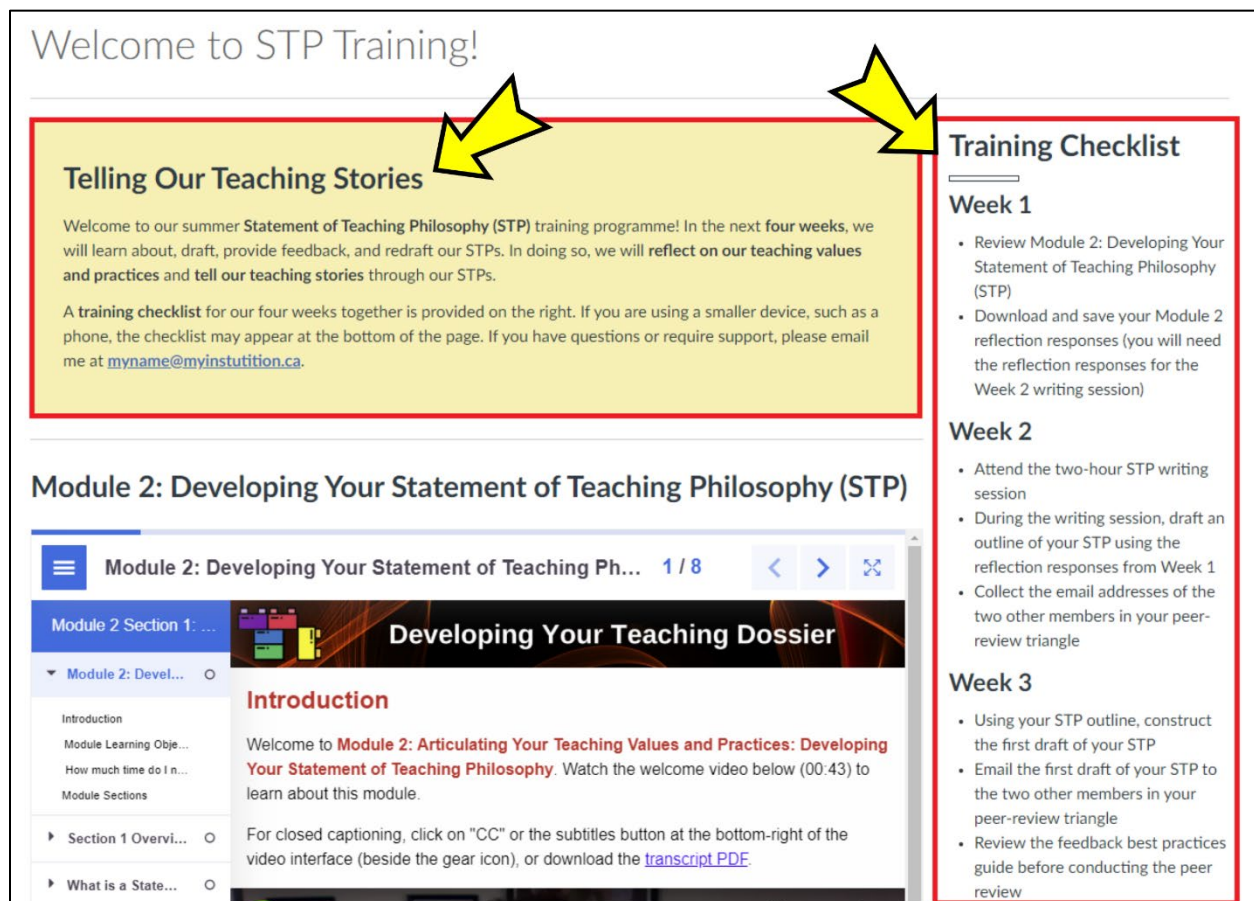

- Clarifying expectations on how users should complete the module(s);
- Introducing how the module(s) will be used in conjunction with a workshop or training programme; or
- Prompting users to save their notes throughout the module(s) for a range of objectives: to bring to a follow-up session, to share with colleagues in a peer-review context, to submit as proof of completion, etc.

For example, an institution may be conducting a multi-week summer programme focused on developing the Statement of Teaching Philosophy. For this summer programme, the institution embedded Module 2 in their LMS, as shown in the screenshot below.

On top of the embedded Module 2 HSP interactive book, the institution provided a brief introduction that outlines the programme length and objectives, highlights the training checklist, and offers contact information for support.

A training checklist is to the right of the embedded Module 2 HSP interactive book. The training checklist signals that users should download and save their Module 2 reflection responses because they will need the reflection responses for the Week 2 writing session. The checklist offers insight into how the Module 2 content relates to the summer programming structure.

The screenshot displays a web page titled "Welcome to STP Training!". The page is divided into two main sections. On the left, a yellow box titled "Telling Our Teaching Stories" contains a welcome message and a training checklist. On the right, a white box titled "Training Checklist" lists tasks for Week 1, Week 2, and Week 3. Below these sections, a video player interface for "Module 2: Developing Your Statement of Teaching Philosophy (STP)" is shown. The video player includes a sidebar with a table of contents and a main area with an introduction video. Two yellow arrows point from the "Telling Our Teaching Stories" box to the "Training Checklist" box, highlighting the connection between the two.

Welcome to STP Training!

Telling Our Teaching Stories

Welcome to our summer Statement of Teaching Philosophy (STP) training programme! In the next four weeks, we will learn about, draft, provide feedback, and redraft our STPs. In doing so, we will reflect on our teaching values and practices and tell our teaching stories through our STPs.

A training checklist for our four weeks together is provided on the right. If you are using a smaller device, such as a phone, the checklist may appear at the bottom of the page. If you have questions or require support, please email me at myname@myinstitution.ca.

Training Checklist

Week 1

- Review Module 2: Developing Your Statement of Teaching Philosophy (STP)
- Download and save your Module 2 reflection responses (you will need the reflection responses for the Week 2 writing session)

Week 2

- Attend the two-hour STP writing session
- During the writing session, draft an outline of your STP using the reflection responses from Week 1
- Collect the email addresses of the two other members in your peer-review triangle

Week 3

- Using your STP outline, construct the first draft of your STP
- Email the first draft of your STP to the two other members in your peer-review triangle
- Review the feedback best practices guide before conducting the peer review

Bonus Tip! Address Possible Usability Issue(s)

In addition to adding navigation instructions (Tip 1), support your users by addressing possible usability issue(s).

We have flagged two possible usability issues on the following pages:

- inner (or double) scrollbars and
- hidden navigation menu.

In addition to the two possible usability issues listed above, H5P content may appear or function differently depending on the type and version of your LMS. Keyboard navigation in the H5P interactive book interface may be disorienting for some users because the H5P navigation is treated as a web app.

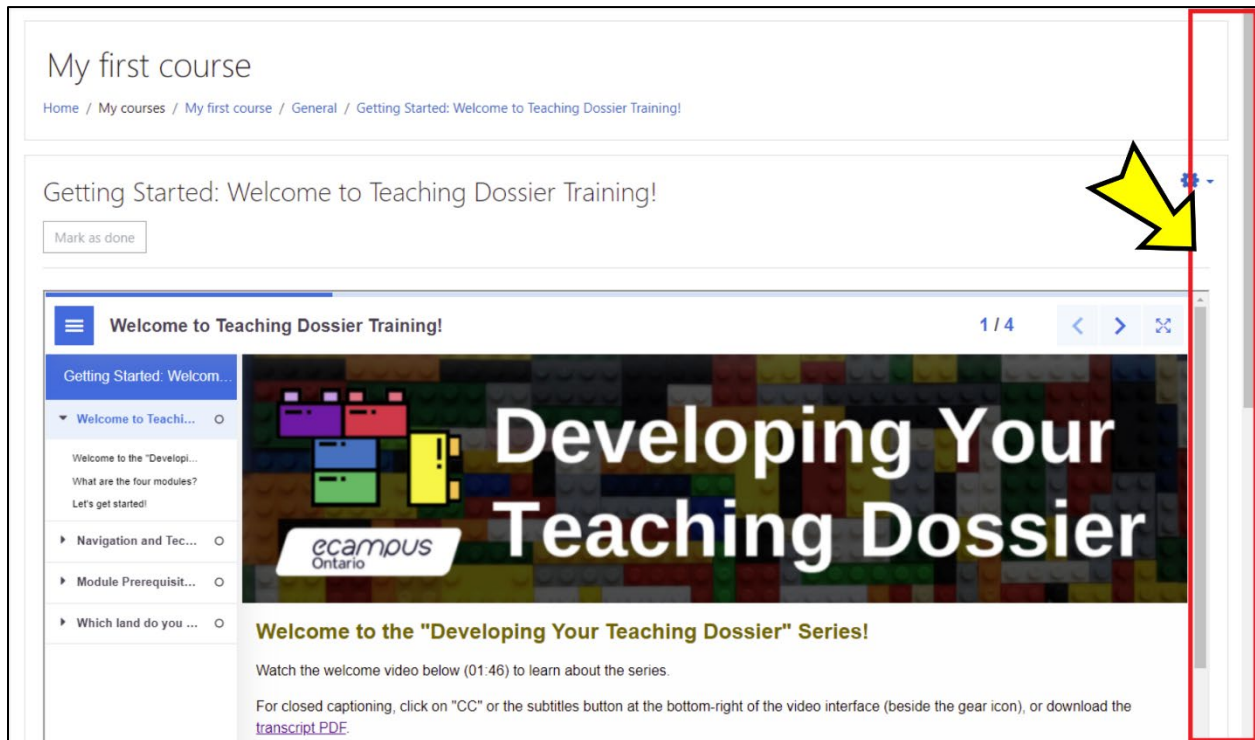

Connect with your institution's LMS and accessibility support teams for further tips and guidance on using H5P content in your LMS.

Check the forums on the H5P.org website for further guidance on working with H5P content.

Inner or Double Scrollbars

When embedding H5P interactive books into an LMS page, inner (or double) scrollbars may appear (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Consider including instructions making users aware of the multiple scrollbars and offer guidance on navigating the scrollbars.

The alternate H5P embed codes provided in Appendix A attempt to address the scrollbar issue by setting a height of 2750px. Depending on the page length of the H5P interactive book, this method may produce large areas of white space beneath the embedded H5P interactive book. If the interactive book page length is shorter, institutions can adjust both instances of `height=" 2750px"` to minimize white space below the interactive book.

Note: If your institution's LMS (for example, Moodle) has set up the Learning Tools Interoperability (LTI) integration with H5P, use the LTI method for a more seamless integration of H5P interactive books without inner (or double) scrollbars. Connect with your institution's LMS support team for guidance.

Hidden Navigation Menu

The left-hand navigation menu may be hidden when embedding H5P interactive books into an LMS page, as shown in the screenshot below. The hidden navigation menu may cause some confusion for users.

Consider adding instructions on how to open and close the left-hand navigation menu.

Embedding the Series

Each module in the series is composed of five H5P interactive books, which can be embedded into any page wherever the HTML editor is available within your LMS. The three steps to embedding H5P content are as follows:

- Step 1: Copy the H5P embed code (available from Appendix A).
- Step 2: Locate the HTML editor in your LMS.
- Step 3: Paste the H5P embed code and save/publish the content.

Consult your LMS guide and locate the detailed instructions for embedding HTML content. Our team has provided screenshots of several LMSs below. Connect with your institution's LMS support team if you experience difficulties with any of these steps.

- Blackboard Learn LMS
- Canvas LMS
- D2L Brightspace LMS
- Moodle LMS
- Sakai LMS

Depending on the structure of your LMS and how you plan to use this open-access resource, you may want to provide additional guidance for your users. Refer to the "Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS" section for ideas.

Tip: Experiment with the embed codes. Different versions of the LMS may display different embed results. Connect with your institution's LMS support team for further tips and guidance.

Blackboard Learn LMS Embed Instructions in 3 Steps

Blackboard®

LEARN™

Step 1: Copy the Embed Code

Copy the section embed code from Appendix A. The embed code should start with ``. The embed codes have been optimized to respond to the user's display.

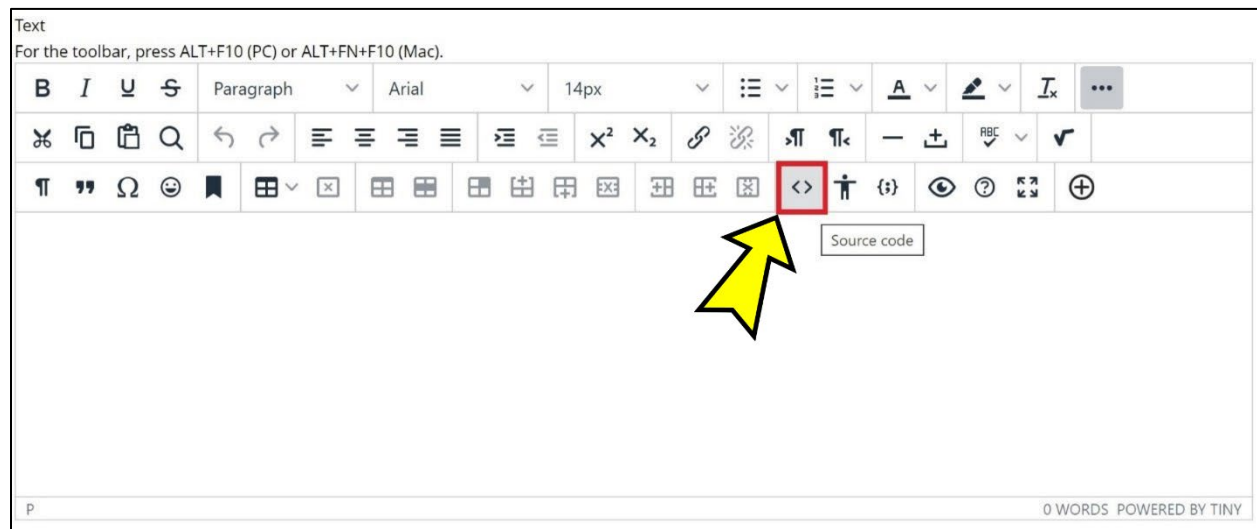

Note: Some versions of the Blackboard Learn LMS may require a modified embed code. We have provided alternate embed codes in Appendix A. The alternate embed codes have a set height of 2750 pixels. If the interactive book page length is shorter, institutions can adjust both instances of `height=" 2750px"` to minimize white space below the interactive book.

H5P Embed Code Example

<iframe
src="https://h5pstudio.ecampusontario.ca/h5p/27474/embed" width="100%" height="2750px" allowfullscreen="allowfullscreen"></iframe>

Step 2: Open the HTML Source Code Panel in a Blackboard Item

Open a Blackboard item and click the "< >" or "HTML" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to open the HTML source code panel.

Step 3: Paste the Embed Code in the HTML Source Code Panel, Save, and Submit

Paste the embed code in the HTML editor. Click the "Save" button at the bottom of the HTML source code panel (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Note: What is on the screen after clicking "Save" may not be the final result.

Click the "Submit" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) on the Blackboard item to view the final result.

Et voilà!

The H5P interactive book is now embedded in a Blackboard item (screenshot below). Refer to the "Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS" section for some tips on enhancing user experience.

Note: Some versions of the Blackboard Learn LMS do not display the H5P interactive book fullscreen button.

Moodle LMS Embed and LTI Instructions in 3 Steps

There are two methods for incorporating H5P content in the Moodle LMS:

- embedding with H5P embed codes (see below), or
- integrating through the Learning Tools Interoperability \(LTI\).

Explore both the embed and LTI methods below. The LTI method offers a more seamless integration.

Note: Not all Moodle LMS versions have set up the LTI integration. Connect with your institution's LMS support team for guidance.

Embed Step 1: Copy the Embed Code

Copy the section embed code from Appendix A. The embed code should start with ``. The embed codes have been optimized to respond to the user's display.

H5P Embed Code Example

<iframe
src="https://h5pstudio.ecampusontario.ca/h5p/27474/embed" width="100%" height="100%" allowfullscreen="allowfullscreen"></iframe>

Embed Step 2: Enable the HTML Source Editor in a Moodle Page

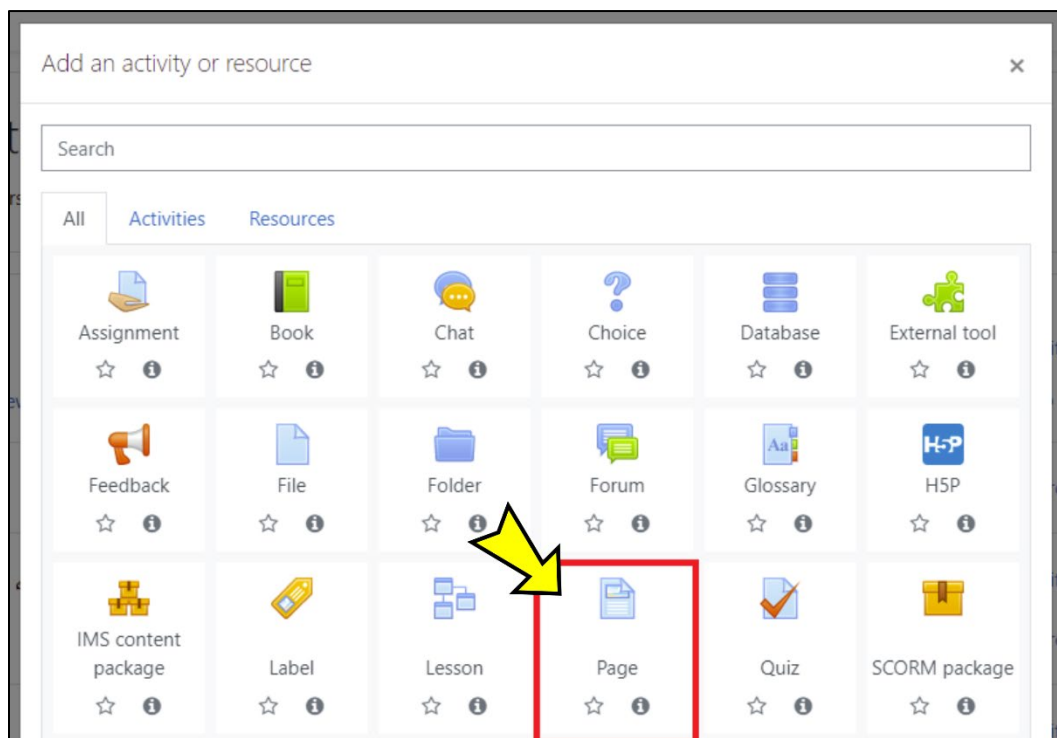

Click the "Turn editing on" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to enable editing.

Click the "+ Add an activity or resource option" function (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to create a new Moodle page.

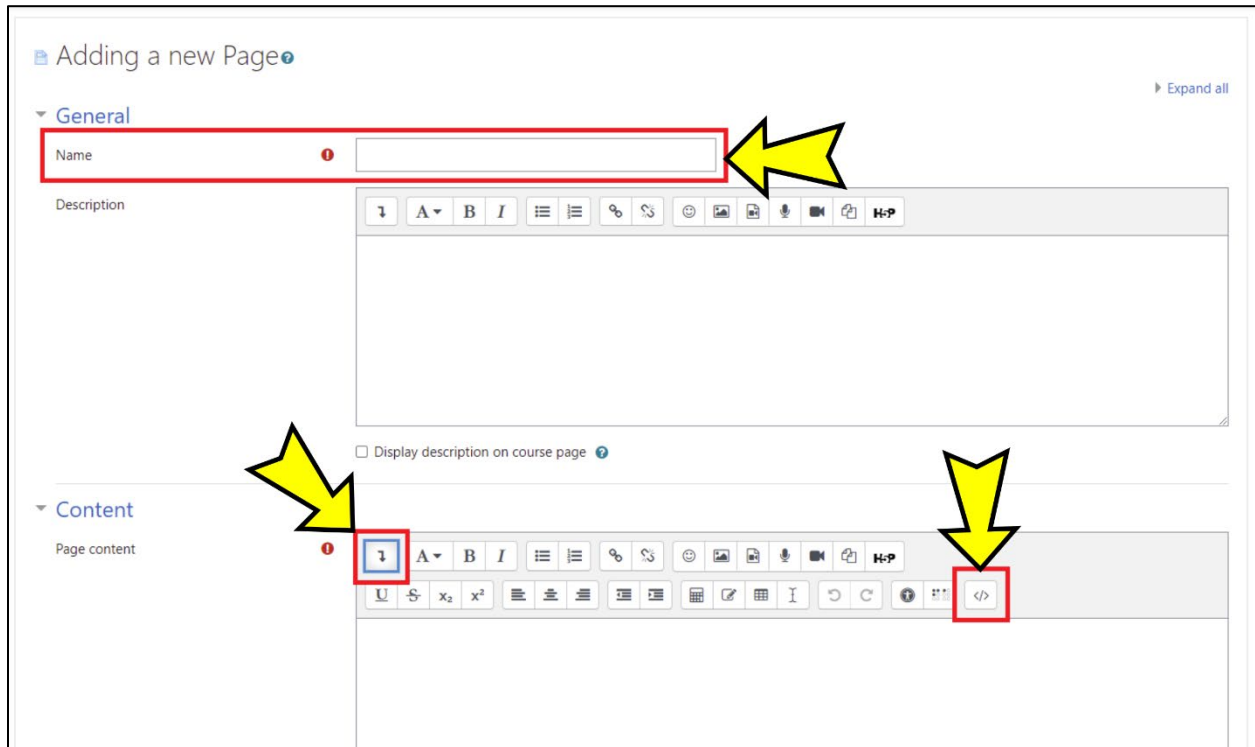

Select the "Page" option (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) from the "Add an activity or resource" menu.

Embed Step 3: Paste the Embed Code in the HTML Source Editor and Save

In some instances, you may have to delete pre-configured HTML codes in the HTML editor. Paste the H5P embed code in the HTML editor (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Click the "Save and display" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save and view the result.

Et voilà!

The H5P interactive book is now embedded in a Moodle Page (screenshot below). Refer to the "Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS" section for some tips on enhancing user experience.

Note: The left-hand navigation menu may be hidden when embedding H5P interactive books into a Moodle page, as shown in the screenshot above. Consider adding instructions on how to open and close the left-hand navigation menu.

LTI Step 1: Download the H5P File

Consult Appendix A and identify the URL of the interactive book you want to use. Visit the interactive book using the URL identified and scroll to the bottom of the interactive book.

Click the "Reuse" button near the bottom-left (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Download the interactive book as an .h5p file (screenshot below).

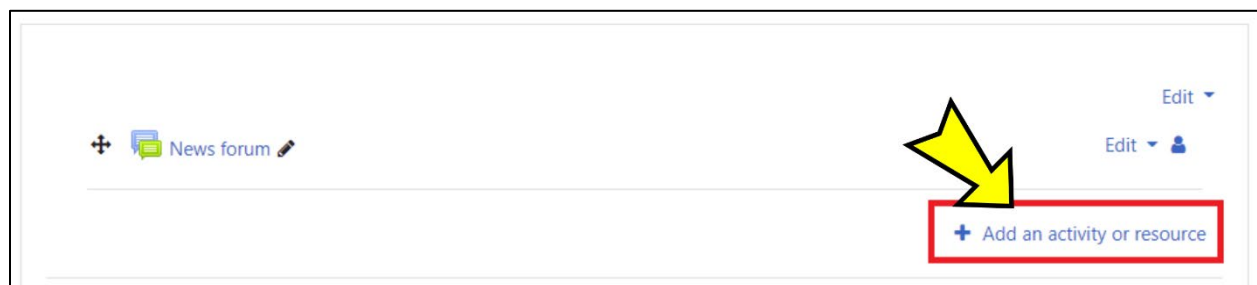

LTI Step 2: Enable the H5P LTI Moodle Integration

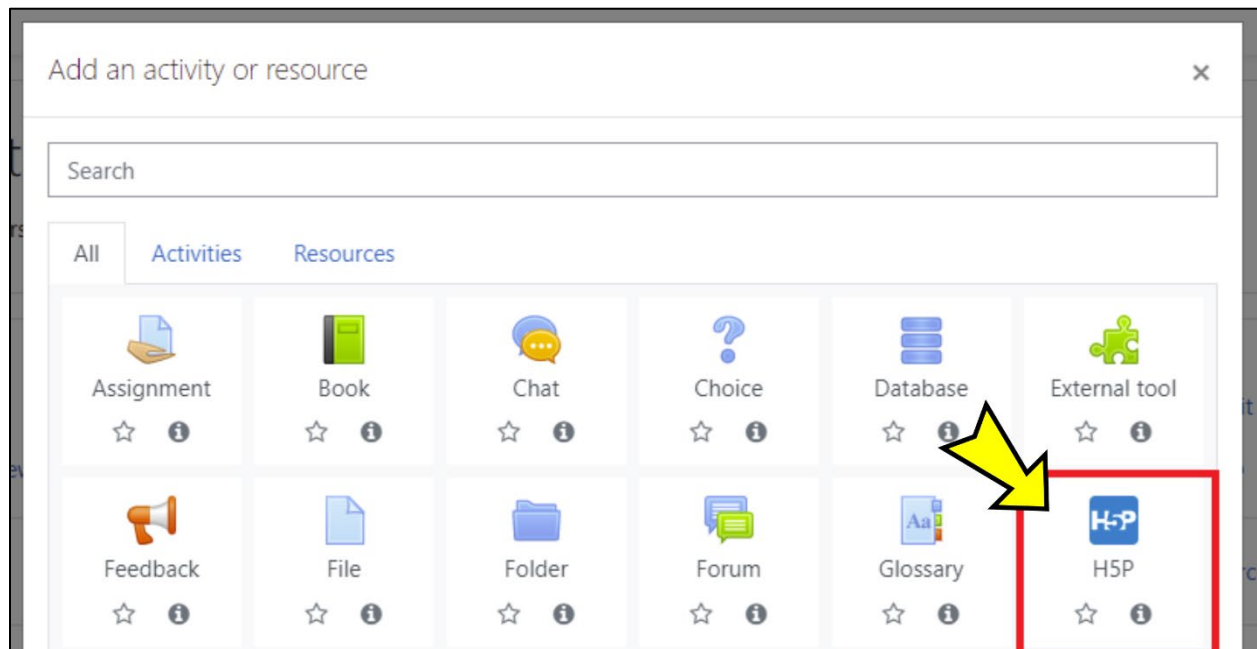

Click the "Turn editing on" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to enable editing.

Click the "+ Add an activity or resource option" function (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Select the "H5P" option (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) from the "Add an activity or resource" menu.

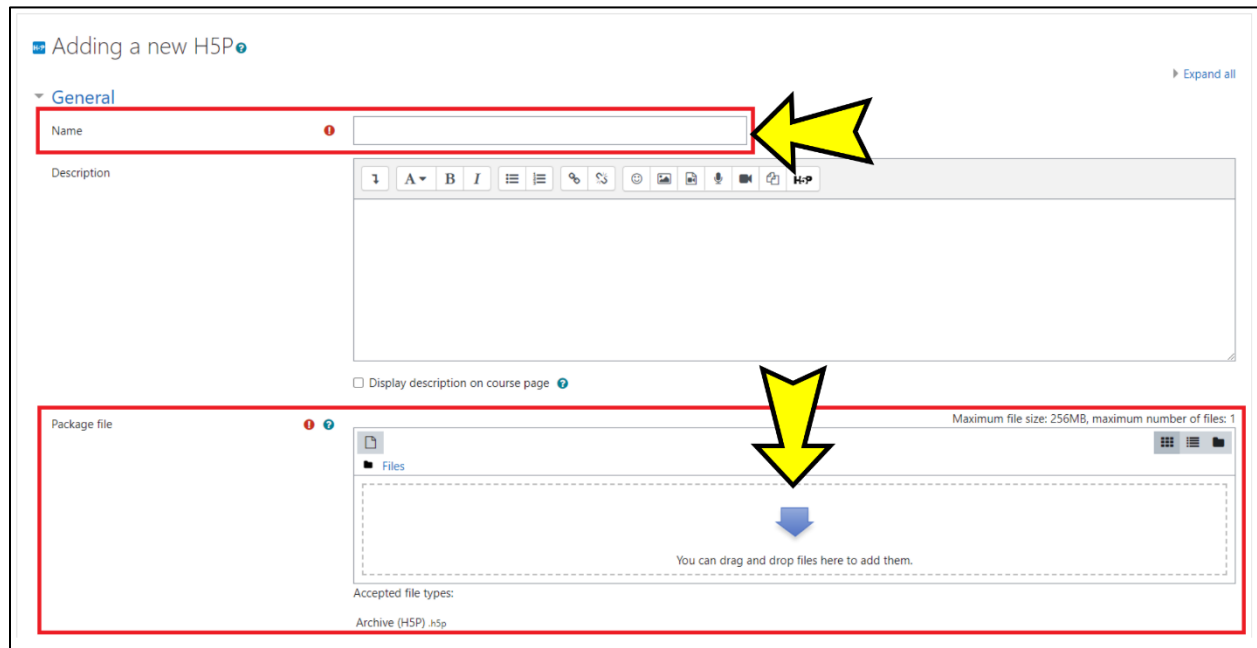

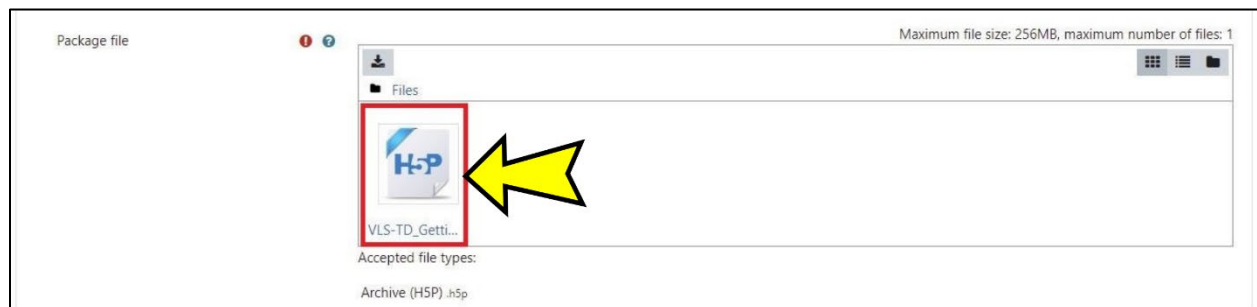

LTI Step 3: Drag and Drop the H5P File and Save

On the "Adding a new H5P" page, in the "General" section, enter a name in the "Name" text box (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Drag and drop the .h5p file into the "Package file" section.

The screenshot below shows an .h5p file (highlighted in a red box) dropped into (uploaded onto) the "Package file" section.

Click the "Save and display" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save and view the result.

The screenshot shows a Moodle form with several expandable sections: Appearance, Common module settings, Restrict access, Activity completion, Tags, and Competencies. At the bottom of the form, there are three buttons: "Save and return to course", "Save and display", and "Cancel". The "Save and display" button is highlighted with a red box, and a large yellow arrow points to it. Below the buttons, a message states: "There are required fields in this form marked [red icon]".

Et voilà!

The H5P interactive book is now integrated into a Moodle course (screenshot below). Refer to the "Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS" section for some tips on enhancing user experience.

The screenshot shows a Moodle course page titled "Getting Started: Welcome to Teaching Dossier Training!". The page includes a "Mark as done" button, a "View all attempts (0 submitted)" link, and a yellow banner stating "This content is displayed in preview mode. No attempt tracking will be stored." The main content area features a large banner with the text "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" and the "ecampus Ontario" logo. Below the banner, there is a section titled "Welcome to the 'Developing Your Teaching Dossier' Series!" with a video player. The video player shows a person speaking and has controls for "Watch later" and "Share". The left sidebar contains a list of course modules, including "Getting Started: Welcome...", "Welcome to the 'Developing Your Teaching Dossier' Series!", "Navigation and Technical Skills", "Module Prerequisites", and "Which land do you live on?".

Sakai LMS Embed Instructions in 3 Steps

Step 1: Copy the Embed Code

Copy the section embed code from Appendix A. The embed code should start with ``. The embed codes have been optimized to respond to the user's display.

Step 2: Create an HTML Page in Sakai Resources

Open Sakai resources, click the "Actions" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below), and select "Create HTML Page" (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Once the HTML page opens, click the "Source" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to enable the HTML editor.

Step 3: Paste the Embed Code in the HTML Page, Continue, and Finish

Paste the embed code in the HTML editor and click the "Continue" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

The H5P interactive book is now embedded in a Sakai page (screenshot below). Refer to the "Tips for Using H5P Content in Your LMS" section for some tips on enhancing user experience.

Customizing the Content

Each section of the four modules is an H5P interactive book and can be customized for your context through the H5P reuse function. Refer to the "Using the 'Developing Your Teaching Dossier' Series" section for the three levels of customization.

- Level 1: Module Combination
- Level 2: Section Grouping
- Level 3: Content Customization

Follow the instructions below to customize (add, change, remove) content within each interactive book (Level 3) using the H5P reuse function.

Some ideas for this level of customization include:

- Adding, combining, or removing content within/between module sections (interactive books);
- Inserting institutional videos, resources, knowledge checks, or links;
- Leveraging reflection notes in more comprehensive and interconnected ways; or
- Modifying the certificate of completion and final deliverables.

Getting Started: Create an eCampusOntario H5P Studio Account

All email addresses associated with eCampusOntario member institutions can create an eCampusOntario H5P Studio account.

Visit the eCampusOntario H5P Studio website and click the "Register" button in the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to create an account.

Complete the registration form and click the "Create new account" button at the bottom of the registration form. That's it! You now have an eCampusOntario H5P Studio Account.

The registration form will ask for your name, title/role, institution, email address, username, and social media/website information.

To log in to your account, click the "Login" button near the top-right corner and enter your username or email address and password.

Reusing H5P Content in 3 Steps

Refer to Appendix D for a sample customization demonstration on removing the self-serve Certificate of Completion from the modules.

Step 1: Download the H5P File

Scroll to the bottom-left of the interactive book you want to customize and click the "Reuse" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Download the interactive book as an .h5p file (screenshot below).

Step 2: Upload the H5P File

Log in to your H5P account and click the "Create" button near the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Once the .h5p file is uploaded, click the "Use" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to customize the H5P content.

It is a good idea to save the uploaded H5P content before customization. Provide a descriptive title and select a subject before clicking the "Save" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save your progress.

The original series content was classified as "Reference" in eCampusOntario H5P Studio.

The screenshot shows the H5P Editor interface. On the left, there are fields for 'Descriptive Title' and 'Subject'. The 'Descriptive Title' field has a placeholder text: 'A descriptive title to make it easier to find'. The 'Subject' field has a dropdown menu with options: 'Business & Management', 'Computing & IT', 'Earth & the Environment', and 'Health & Development'. Below the dropdown is a note: 'Select the subject(s) most related to this content.' In the center, there is a 'Content type' dropdown menu with 'H5P' selected. Below this, a green message box says 'Content was successfully uploaded!'. At the bottom, there are buttons for 'Tutorial' and 'Example', and a 'Copy' button. On the right, there are 'Save' and 'Cancel' buttons. The 'Save' button is highlighted with a red box and a yellow arrow pointing to it.

Step 3: Customize the H5P Content

Locate the H5P content you wish to customize in your dashboard (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Click the content title, then click the "Edit" button near the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

You can customize each element in the H5P Editor. Remember to click the "Save" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save your changes.

Note: H5P interactive book can take a while to save, depending on how much content is in the book.

Appendix A: "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" Series Embed Codes

Note: Some versions of the Blackboard Learn LMS may require a modified embed code. We have provided alternate embed codes below. The alternate embed codes have a set height of 2750 pixels. If the interactive book page length is shorter, institutions can adjust both instances of height="2750px" to minimize white space below the interactive book.

Appendix D: Sample Series Customization Demonstration: Certification of Completion

Removing the Certificate of Completion

The "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series provides a self-serve Certificate of Completion at the end of each of the four modules. Because the module has no tracking and reporting capabilities, institutions may want to use their own system for managing training progress and completion.

As a sample customization demonstration, the following section provides step-by-step instructions on removing the self-serve Certificate of Completion (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) from the module. Refer to the H5P.org website for further guidance on reusing H5P content.

Developing Your Teaching Dossier

Congratulations!

Download the certificate of completion PDF.

After you download the certificate to your computer:

- open the fillable PDF file on your computer (not the browser);
- type in your name in the top box and today's date in the bottom box; and
- save the file.

What's Next?

Ask your institution for access to other modules from the "Developing Your Teaching Dossier" series.

- Module 1: Reflecting on Your Teaching Experience: An Introduction to Teaching Dossiers
- Module 2: Articulating Your Teaching Values and Practices: Developing Your Statement of Teaching Philosophy
- Module 3: Connecting Narratives and Evidence: Developing Components of your Teaching Dossier

Acknowledgements

Step 1: Download the H5P File

Scroll to the bottom-left of the interactive book you want to remove the certificate and click the "Reuse" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Download the interactive book as an .h5p file (screenshot below).

Step 2: Upload the H5P File

Log in to your H5P account and click the "Create" button near the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Once the .h5p file is uploaded, click the "Use" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to customize the H5P content.

It is a good idea to save the uploaded H5P content before customization. Provide a descriptive title and select a subject before clicking the "Save" button (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save your progress.

The original series content was classified as "Reference" in eCampusOntario H5P Studio.

Step 3: Customize the H5P Content

Locate the H5P content you wish to customize in your dashboard (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Click the content title, then click the "Edit" button near the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below).

Locate and select the "Certificate of Completion and Acknowledgements page (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below). Update the page title and metadata to the new name you wish to use.

Scroll down to locate the "Congratulations! (Text)" section, where the certificate is presented. Click the "X" (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to remove the certificate section.

Alternatively, you can provide new instructions in the space and use the up and down arrows (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to move the section up and down the page.

After completing your changes, click the "Save" button near the top-right corner (highlighted in a red box in the screenshot below) to save your work.

Note: H5P interactive book can take a while to save, depending on how much content is in the book.

The Certificate of Completion has been successfully removed and the new page title is "Acknowledgements." Note the difference with the initial demonstration screenshot on page 75.
