

(Book 2) Lesson 27d.

Octave Scales on "G-B-E" Strings
in Eighth Note Triplets

Repeat with all four fingerings

Repeat with all four fingerings

Repeat with all four fingerings

Play as one continuous exercise without stopping. Work out a variety of plectrum techniques. A metronome is usually a good idea to keep you going at a steady pace but one should be able to keep time without it. A metronome can also be used to catalogue your progress in regard to velocity. However, don't become a slave to speed because there is bound to be a kid on the next block who can play faster than you. The object of the game is control.